

International Partnerships

U.S. and international civic education centers are matched in long-term partnerships based on common goals. Partners share ideas, resources, and expertise, and are able to bring a more global perspective to their own countries' civic education programs.

Special Projects

International civic education organizations partner directly with the Center to implement civic education projects in their countries. They contribute to the worldwide exchange of ideas through web-based discussions, delegation visits, and regional and global meetings.